Redcliffe Imaging “Sign” up to Euros

The European Slowpitch Softball Championships, taking place in Southampton from the 9th July - 12th July, are pleased to announce a tie-up with Redcliffe Imaging who will be sponsoring the event. Redcliffe Imagine are experts in the field of exhibition and display graphic systems and will be providing the event with many different promotional items giving a fantastic spectacle. The event, taking place at the Southampton University sports grounds involves teams from across Europe and the Great Britain team are hoping to defend their title they won two years ago in Slovenia.

Roger Grooms of the British Softball Federation, the governing body responsible for hosting this event, said of the tie-up with Redcliffe Imaging. "I'm extremely pleased to have them on board – they're a great company who will be providing me with many of the materials I would have needed for the event. I'm pleased they see this as an opportunity to market their name whilst we will be benefiting from many of the products they offer. Not only that, they will be sending someone down to help out in a volunteering capacity during the week – fantastic!"

David Lee, Marketing Manager of Redcliffe Imaging stated, "I'm really looking forward to 2008 Championships, the quality of teams is better and much closer this year than at any time previously so an exciting tournament is almost guaranteed. We at Redcliffe are very pleased to be closely associated with the Softball European Championships, we identified Softball as a rapidly burgeoning sport which attracts a discerning following, right across Europe, so this event presents an ideal opportunity for us to show the range & quality of our products ""
